

Privacy Policy

We are committed to safeguarding and preserving the privacy of our visitors.

This privacy policy explains what happens to any personal data that you provide to us, or that we collect from you whilst you visit our site.

Users may visit our site anonymously. We will collect personal identification information from our site users only if you voluntarily submit such information to us as part of taking part in the activity of the site.

We do update this policy from time to time so please do review this policy regularly.

Google Analytics

We use Google Analytics to gather data on the website visitors for marketing purposes.

All data is anonymised, and no personally identifiable information is collected.

The Website

We take a proactive approach to user privacy and ensure the necessary steps are taken to protect the privacy of its users throughout their visiting experience. This website complies with all UK national laws and requirements for user privacy.

Personal Data

Users contacting us through the website do so at their own discretion and provide any such personal details requested at their own risk. Your personal information is kept private and stored securely until a time it is no longer required or has no use, as detailed in the Data Protection Act 1998. Every effort has been made to ensure a safe and secure form to email submission process, but we advise users using such form to email processes that they do so at their own risk.

No personal details are passed on to third parties nor shared with companies / people outside of the company that operates this website.

Third Party Links

Although this website only looks to include quality, safe and relevant external links users should always adopt a policy of caution before clicking any external web links mentioned throughout this website.

Your acceptance of these terms

By using this site, you signify your acceptance of this policy. If you do not agree to this policy, please do not use our site. Your continued use of the site following the posting of changes to this policy will be deemed your acceptance of those changes.
